BLAIRMORE TENNIS CLUB

A meeting of the Blairmore Tennis Club was held on Thursday, April 26th, at which it was decided to re-organize the club for the 1928 season. The following officers were elected:

Honorary President—G. A. Vissac.

President—R. Pinkney.

Vice-President—N. Anderson.

Secretary-Treasurer—A. C. Hnatyshyn.

Finance Committee—A. C. Hnatyshyn, R. Rostrum, R. Thompson, E. A. Harper and P. Farmer.

Tournament Committee—A. C. Hnatyshyn, R. Pinkney, N. Anderson and Mrs. J. A. Kerr.

Entertainment Committee—E. A. Harper, N. Anderson and Mrs. J. A. Kerr.

The question of union with the United Church Club was discussed at length, but no satisfactory arrangement could be arrived at and an invitation was sent to the secretary of the United Church Club to submit some feasible plan whereby cooperation between the two clubs could be arrived at as it was felt that there were not enough tennis players in Blairmore for two clubs.

Work on the courts commenced immediately and they are now ready for play. All who wish to join the club are welcome to turn out and give their backhand some practice. The club will hold a dance at the Greenhill Grill on Friday, May 11th; music by the Knights of Rythm. Polish up your dancing shoes and keep this date open for a real good time.

PRESENTATION TO MISS MCKRILL

In honor of Miss McKrill, her vocal pupils of Bellevue, Coleman and Blairmore held a surprise party in the Elks' hall last evening.

It was a real surprise party, Miss McKrill being in complete ignorance of what was to occur until she was brought into the hall under the guidance of Mrs. Packer, when she was greeted by the pupils rising and singing: "Welcome to Our Teacher." This was the opening item of the program, and was followed by songs, recitation, piano solos and duets. The following pupils took part: Douglas Wilson, Lilian Packer, Joyce Donkin, Blodwyd Evans, Dorothy Costick, Veardella Packer, Elaine Evans, Marion McDonald, Jean Gray, Betty Thompson, Donald Mackenzie, Betty Greig, Norman Packer, Albert Thompson, Leonard McDonald, Jean Upton, Jean Greig, Mabel Thompson, Alice Hornquist, Mary Gray and Ralph Woodton.

The last item on the program was a one-act sketch, entitled: "The Photographer," with the following cast: the photographer, Mabel Thompson; Irish girl, Jean Greig; city lady, Alice Hornquist.

This was very cleverly performed, Jean Greig's gags on local people causing much amusement, especially when she was endeavoring to obtain six photographs at the reduced price of five dollars, and explained that she needed one for her Uncle Ralph, the famous actor, to take with him when he toured the Crows' Nest Pass. One for her schoolmaster, Mr. McPherson, in order that he would have something to remember her by if he blew the school up as the result of his experiments with explosives. One for Mr. Munro, the Crows' Nest Pass poet, who she felt sure would one day be the poet laureate. One for Mrs. Mackenzie, who had worked so hard on the festival committee, turning over music for the players and moving music stools, etc. One for her cousin, Katie McKrill, in order that when she returned to London she could show her relatives a sample of the pupils she taught in Blairmore. She also said that she needed one most especially for her best fellow, Mr. Bartlett, who went to tea with her one afternoon, when she fed him on angel cake made with two eggs, and he never returned. Mabel Thompson capably filled the role of The Photographer, very worried because "he" could not induce his client to cease talking and sit still while he focused the camera. Alice Hornquist portrayed her part as a city lady in an excellent manner, and showed that, although skirts are worn shorter than years ago, the ancient fear of mice remains.

At the end of the program, a short but pleasing ceremony took place, when Mary Gray, with a few well-chosen remarks, presented Miss McKrill with a handbag and a beautiful bouquet of roses. Miss McKrill suitably responded.

Refreshments were then served, after which games were indulged in.

The committee responsible for the entertainment were Mary Gray, Jean Greig, Alice Hornquist and Mabel Thompson, to whom great credit must be given for the capable way in which everything was carried out; also to Mrs. Greig and Mrs. Thompson for the valuable aid given.

Motorists entering the Rocky Mountain Park at Banff this year will pay a flat rate of $2.00. This is for all cars and will supersede the rate of $1.00, for a transient license good for three weeks and the rate of $4.00 for a season license. Upon payment of the new fee, the motorist will also receive one month's camping privilege on the regular grounds established throughout the parks.

The play is directed by Mrs. T. J. Cumberland, of Pincher Creek, and is being produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, of New York, with the following cast:

Aunt Mary Watkins, a very wealthy spinster and Jack's Aunt—Mrs. T. J. McAllister.

John Watkins Deenham (Jack)—Dr. W. H. Geering.

Bob Burnett, H. K. Mitchell and H. W. Glover, Jack's chums—J. R. K. Main, J. Cumberland and A. H. Taylor.

Mr. Stebbins, Aunt Mary's lawyer—W. Thomas.

Betty Burnett, Burnett's sister, afterwards Aunt Mary's maid—Granice—Miss Hazel Dobbie.

The Girl from Kalamazoo, Betty Burnett's maid Eva—Miss Lillian Drew.

Joshua, Aunt Mary's hired man, and James, the Burnett butler—H. Clements.

Lucinda, Aunt Mary's property, body and soul—Mrs. L. Parker.

Scenes—Act 1, interior of Aunt Mary's home; act 2, the library in the Burnett residence at New York; act 3, Aunt Mary's bedroom at home.

Upton's festival orchestra will be in attendance.

This play has been presented on several occasions at Pincher Creek and other points and has pleased audiences everywhere. It is hoped that a crowded house will greet them on Monday night.

Curtain rises at 8 sharp. Reserved seats may be secured at Capt. W. A. Beebe's—General admission and children's tickets are within easy reach of everybody.

MAY-DAY CELEBRATION

IS HUGE SUCCESS

The celebration of May Day by the miners and their families of the district from Michel to Lundbreck, held at Frank, was one of the biggest successes of the season. Hundreds of people gathered in from the outlying settlements and joined wholeheartedly in this annual event.

At 2:30 in the afternoon, the chair was taken by Mr. T. J. Williams, of Blairmore, when a lengthy program was carried out, which included the following items:

Musical Drill by Finnish Girls. Finnish Solo by Mrs. Letho.

Recitation by Master Wallace Hill. Musical Drill by Finnish men.

Address by Mr. P. M. Christopher, M.L.A.

Selections by Michel Band of thirteen pieces.

Recitation, "Prelude to Propaganda," by Mrs. Apponen.

Selections by Coleman orchestra of eight pieces.

Recitation by Master Nick Petunia, of Coleman.

Chorus by Coleman Male Voices.

Musical Drill by a group of Coleman boys and girls.

Song, "I'd Hate to be a Scab," by group of Coleman boys and girls.

Every item on the program was exceptionally well rendered, and the able address by Mr. Christopher was thoroughly enjoyed.

Dancing, under the auspices of the Michel folks, followed and was kept up till well on in the morning of Wednesday. Music for dancing was furnished by the Michel orchestra.

Mr. F. Weir, chairman, and Mr. Williams, secretary, desire on behalf of the Labor Defense League Committee to thank the public for their generous assistance at this time.

The Crows' Nest Chapter, I. O. D., will hold a tea and sale of home-made in the Elks Hall on Saturday, May 12th, from 7 to 8 p.m. Your patronage will be greatly appreciated.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Henry James Cambie, pioneer railway builder and "explorer," died at his home in Vancouver at the age of ninety-one, after a brief illness with pneumonia.

Coal production in Canada during March was slightly less than in February. Alberta produced 610,043 tons. British Columbia's output was 251,832 tons.

Capt. George H. Wilkins, scarcely landed from his greatfeat off flying across the top of the world by aeroplane, already is planning a new adventure—this time over the Antarctic at the other end of the world.

The government is of the opinion that women should have the right to sit in the Senate and means will be devised to amend the British North America Act to permit appointment of women to the upper chamber.

The resignation of Sir Henry Dryden as member for West York was announced in the House of Commons. He has accepted the appointment of chairman of the Ontario Liquor Board.

A notice of motion for the tabling of correspondence between Canada and Great Britain on the subject of titles for Canadians has been given by C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George. The motion also calls for a list of foreign honors and decorations conferred on Canadians since 1919.

Dr. Henry M. Tory, president of the University of Alberta since its organization 20 years ago, is tendering his resignation, to take effect at the end of the current college year next month, in order that he may accept the permanent chairmanship of the National Council of Scientific Research, with headquarters probably at Ottawa.

To Beautify Ottawa

Proposed Outlay Of Three Million Dollars To Beautify U.S. Capital

Plans for the federal district committee for the beautification of the city of Ottawa were laid before the House of Commons by Premier MacKenzie King.

The bill, a Government measure proposes:

1.—To reduce from $250,000 to $200,000 the annual amount granted to the Ottawa federal district committee.

2.—A further expenditure of $3,000,000 for expropriations of the Russell House property.

The plan—sketch maps were distributed among members that they might better follow the scheme—is to create a large park in the centre of Ottawa, opening up the approach to Parliament Hill.

A feature of the park scheme is a large circular space, after the style of Piccadilly Circus in London, around which one-way traffic will move. The centre of the space will be the "heart" of the capital. There, in all probability, the national war memorial will be erected.

"A country is known among the citizens of the world by its capital," said Mr. King. The capital of Canada should be second to none in the British Empire. The various provincial capitals were a credit to their provinces, and it should be remembered, he added, that Ottawa was the federal capital for all the provinces.

Genius At Mental Arithmetic

Scientists of Europe are interested in the case of a woman in a Welsh hospital who can neither read nor write but is a genius at mental arithmetic. She can solve mathematical problems in 30 seconds and is said to never give an incorrect answer. She can recall a large number of historical dates at will.

Small Town Papers

FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE
Editor of "The Small Town Paper," Great Falls, Montana, and author of "Country Publishing," etc.

The total circulation of these 1,100 country weeklies is about 9,500,000, an average of a little under 1,000 copies each. That doesn't sound like much to a New York audience used to circulation figures in the hundreds of thousands. But there are only about 600 dailies in the United States which have as many as 10,000 readers. In a whole year, or dailies circulate only about 33,000,000.

"It doesn't take a large circulation to make a weekly profitable. Mills and towns of 1,000 or less chaps here are the magnets of the business. Remember that an income net of $3,000 a year in a village is a good living; it's at least $10,000 a year in Chicago or New York, in what it will enable a man to do for himself and his family. It's man in the same sized town makes as much. I should say, as anybody else in town is likely to make, in income, but not in expenses. The merchant. And I don't think it's wrong when I put $3,000 a year as pretty nearly the minimum net profit for a country paper, especially when he averages closer to $5,000 if I'm wrong somebody correct me."

Sounds all right to me," said an Iowa editor who had been doing nothing but listen. "I personally know at least 100 country papers in Iowa who make more than $3,000 a year from their papers. It's a poor paper—or, rather, a poor editor, who can't earn even a cent a year in his investment in this business—and I guess our average plant investment runs nearer $20,000 than it does $15,000."

"That will come pretty close to it," said one of the others, who turned out to be the representative of a concern carrying a general line of printing and publishing equipment.

"I am sure you know where it is. If I did I'd hunt up the editor and ask him for a paper price. The tiny country paper would be, and often was, printed a page at a time on an Army press that cost $50. More of them used the Washington hand press, which cost $300 to $500 and printed two or four pages at a time. Then the cylinder press came in, with a cylinder that could print a page at a time, and the sheet—a little steam engine to turn the press over. But all those are obsolete now. The two revolutionaries belong to the flat-bed printing press, printing from the roll. These types of presses cost from $2,500 to $20,000; I think a fair average is $10,000."

"There we have $3,000 in only the two main items of the plant. But we've got to put in hand type and cases for the cylinder, printing stones, a folder, a molder for the press and another for the machine, and all the rest of the necessary equipment, including stereotyping machines in many cases. Cost there's another $4,000 there. That makes an average investment of $10,000 exclusive of building. More country papers are built than ever before, and rent, and $2,500 is surely not too high for an average figure of the value of the building, counting those who don't own their own."

"You are correct," said the friend from Iowa that the average investment in country weeklies runs well above $10,000, and is increasing all the time.

The advertising-agency man had been tentering on the edge of his chair, eager to pick up the conversation again.

"Will you give me some more figures?" he insisted. "You're wondering where the country editors get the money to invest in their plants, and where they get the money to live?"

"They get it from the bank," said the friend from Iowa. "They aren't many millionaires among them, but they'll average a higher cash income per family than the big cities average."

"There are 60,000,000 people in the United States," said the advertising-agency man.

"And these 60,000,000 people, instead of being the poorest part of our population, are pretty nearly the best off on the average."

CHAPTER XXIII.—Continued.

"Well, there's many a good girl has come to me before without references," Mrs. Angus. "I'm no such a hand for references as I once was," said Miss Ritchie. "They are often written to get rid of a girl, you know."

"No, I do not know that," said Mrs. Angus; "I prefer references."

"Well, then here you are," said Miss Ritchie; "he's an old country girl with some real virtues and character, and local bodies and all—she'll do fine for you."

That morning Helmi was interviewed by four other women. She was viewed with favor by the first one, who enumerated her good points without ever thinking it might be embarrassing. "You look clean and smart," she said; "I know how to put your clothes on straight, and you look a person square in the eye. You are a foreigner, I see. From what country?"

"Finland," said Helmi.

"Goodnight!" cried the lady, with a harsh laugh; "then it's all off. My husband had one in his bridge gang did he? He's a good man, but he's a socialist and agitator. He would poison me if I brought home a Finn. I want a British subject, Miss Ritchie. We owe it to our own to give them the choice, though dear me, some of the English girls have been a trial, too."

The next woman who talked to Helmi kept a boardinghouse, and fancied Helmi on account of her height. "I like a tall girl—who can carry rags better. You've done it?—that's good. Yes, you are a likely looking girl. I must say you're not still with you now, though. I don't mind Finland—they're temperate but clean and smart. What's that? You want to go home at night! Why? A Baby! Nothing doing—say, won't do me at all. No, Sir. I had a girl with a baby once and it was always getting sick or dying or something just when I needed her worst. Never again! I believe in population all right, but I can't have a wifewoman with a baby, even if we never get the country settled. What in the world did you have a baby for, a smart girl like you?"

Cute in a Baby—Awful at Three—and it's Dangerous

by Ruth Brittan

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding a baby as a sort of animal to be handled and played with. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour daily. Beyond this, being handled, tickled, poked, etc., may cause screaming, will sometimes result in vomiting, and invariably causes irritability, crying and sleeplessness.

For the crying and sleeplessness from this cause can easily be avoided by treating baby with more consideration, but when you must call him a "pet" making the right less or upside down, give him a few drops of pure, harmless Castor Oil. It's amazing to see how quickly it calms baby's nerves and soothes him to sleep yet it contains no drugs or opium. It is purely vegetable—the recipe is on the wrapper. Leading physicians prescribe it for colic, chills, fits, convulsions, gas, gripes, gas on stomach and bowels, feverishness, loss of sleep and all other "upssets" of babyhood. Over 25 million bottles used a year shows its overwhelming popularity.

With each bottle of Castor Oil, you get a book on Motherhood, worth its weight in gold. Look for "Castor Oil" signature on the package so you'll get genuine Castor Oil. There are many imitations.

Helmi stared at her haughtily. "It isn't your business," she said, "I can have a baby if I want it without asking you."

"You bet you can, and welcome. Well, who else have you, Miss Ritchie?"

The fourth woman who spoke to Helmi asked her many questions about her past. "Where is your husband?" she asked.

Helmi replied that she did not know.

"Are you sure you are married?"

"I am sure you think I may have deserted you?" the woman asked searchingly.

Helmi hesitated, and as she considered her question she could only think of the brave and bit back used to bore holes in the boards. Helmi knew she had no right to question her, but she answered as bravely as she could, all the time praying, "Make her take me, God; Make her!"

"Well, my dear, I wouldn't be too sure. Men are fickle, I know. My first husband left me."

"My man is a good one," said Helmi firmly.

"One little girl, one month old."

"Well, of course, that would be the difficulty."

"I can leave her with friends," said Helmi, eagerly. She was going panicky. Was there no work anywhere for her?

"Still, I have three sons, young men; it would not be nice to have a young girl who has a baby—know what boys are like—inclined to tease."

"I like boys, good enough," said Helmi, eagerly, "try me—I am a smart worker. I have to get work, my money is nearly gone, and I must pay for my baby's care, my friends are not rich people."

"I would not suppose they were," said the lady, with emphasis. "I suppose they are Finnish people like yourself—simply working people?"

"No, ma'am," said Helmi, "It is a Canadian family who have been very good to me."

"Indeed," said Mrs. Swallowell, "how good of them! I hope you are very grateful."

"I am," said Helmi, "I want to pay you well."

"I will think about it. I do not like to decide in a hurry. My home is everything to me, my mother everything to me—but it's my nature. Give me your phone number. You haven't a phone?"

"Oh, dear, how awkward! Let me see, you could phone me—No. 8333—that is easy to remember but I cannot just say when I will be in. Every day there is something. Really, I grow busier all the time, it seems, and one can not refuse invitations when one accepts them. Friday evenings at dinner time—we dine at seven—I think I have no dinner engagement."

Sadly disappointed, Helmi turned away. "How could she wait until Friday—she must have work. It was now near twelve—surely someone would take her? She looked back and searched the faces of the women. Miss Ritchie nodded to her encouragement.

"I phone about for you when I can," she said; "there is a rush on this morning."

Just at that moment the door opened and a dainty little lady entered. She came to the desk quickly, with tiny steps, like a mechanical toy. "Oh, Miss Ritchie, I am in such trouble," she began; "Mary has left me. She quarreled with Robina, and wanted him to apologize. It is pretty hard for a big boy of seven to apologize, now, isn't it? He simply wouldn't. He has thrown a tomato at her—it was very naughty of him, of course—just a boyish prank—and she took it so seriously. Have you some one?"

Miss Ritchie called Helmi over. "Here's the very girl for you, Mrs. Brand," she said; "she has a baby of her own, and she'll be good to the twins, I know."

"Oh, I couldn't take a girl with a baby—it would be a headache."

"It can work by the day and leave the baby with friends," said Helmi. She was pale and tired, nervous and looked too ill to be an attractive venture for anyone looking for help.

"I am strong," said Helmi; "my baby is young, so I am pale yet. Try me—for a day even."

"Well, I must ask my husband—I always consult him of course"—(Mr. Brand would have been interested in this) "and I will let Miss Ritchie know that will be the best, I couldn't very well let you bring the baby, and it's at night I need you most."

Helmi turned to Miss Ritchie. "I must go now," she said; "a little girl minds the baby—from school, she stayed for me."

Miss Ritchie nodded. "Better luck next time," she said. "I shall keep you in mind."

In the afternoon Helmi came back. Mrs. Corbett was not going out, so she kept the baby. But no one wanted Helmi—he was a foreigner, and she had a baby.

Kind-hearted Miss Ritchie was dressed, and flared up in anger when one woman said to Helmi: "You should have thought of this about this time last year!"

"Having a baby is not a crime. Mrs. Cosworth, the poor girl is honest and willing to work. She'd give service for every dollar. T'll go home. She isn't asking charity or even sympathy."

Afternoon Helmi waited, while well-dressed women came and went. The seekers of employment sat together, and were easily distinguishable from the others. Their names were humble and befitting their work with all its associations bad. Unhappily women out of employment, and on the faces of many, gaunt fear was plainly written. This was particularly true of those who were the most refined and cultured.

Fragments of conversation fell around Helmi as she sat among the seekers.

Two women in seal coats were discussing the situation.

NEW GUIDE FOR AVIATORS

Roof Signs Would Aid Flyers To Identify Towns

The patriotic citizen of today is called upon to give a roof to his country. Roofs are to be the aerial guideposts for flyers, with signs identifying each community, pointing the direction to the nearest airport and telling the distance to it.

The family of a generation hence which goes out in its aerial flight for a Sunday afternoon ride will be able to see beneath it the name of each town in large letters, and at a glance where to land if the caravane gets to "balking or running out."

The aviation division of the department of transportation has initiated the plan of guiding aviators by post signs, and it has been taken up vigorously. Particularly are such signs valuable to airmen, it is pointed out, on roofs of buildings in smaller towns and communities which have no landmarks which are easily distinguishable from the air.

Oil companies have been among the first to accede to the suggestion, and many of them are putting town names on the tops of their gasoline and oil tanks in each community. The American Legion has announced that 10,000 of its posts will undertake the marking of their communities for guidance of flyers.

Office buildings, shops and tanks are suitable for the signs, the aviation division says, but depots and warehouses near railroads are particularly good because they are visible from a distance.

Simple block letters in chrome yellow, on a dull black background, are best, pilots say, and letters should be at least six feet high. Arrows should point the direction of the nearest landing field and the mileage to it should be given.

The vision of the suffering witnessed at Solferino never left him. For three years he travelled about Europe, preaching, lecturing, writing, advocating the need of speedy reorganization of military and medical services separated from the immediate town. Finally he obtained official permission to tend the wounded and dying on the field of battle, giving personal with wine, food, cigarettes, tobacco, for which he paid out of his own purse. So indefatigably did he work that, in gratitude, the invalids named him "The Good Samaritan of Castelfidone."

IMPORTANT RESOLUTION

At a recent session of the Cranbrook Assembly No. 23, Native Sons of Canada, the following resolution, which had been submitted by the National Council and is being presented to the Dominion parliament, was unanimously endorsed:

"Whereas Canada has by mutual consent of those concerned now attained a position of equality in the Commonwealth of Nations which makes up the British Empire;

And whereas Canada is a member of the League of Nations, having representation on the council thereof;

And Whereas by an enactment of the Parliament of Canada—11-12 George V, Chapter 4, which said legislation now appears as "Canadian Nationals Act," Chapter 21 of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, the terms "Canadian Nationality" and "Canadian Nationals" are defined;

Therefore it is resolved (1) that persons born in Canada shall be described as being of Canadian Nationality in all legislation and official and other documents, (2) that persons of the white race, born of parents whose family residence in Canada is of three or more generations, shall be described as being of the "Canadian Race" in all legislation and official and other documents."

The Western Oddfellow states that despatches announce that on August 26, 1927, the first taxicab appeared on the streets of Jerusalem. It is stated that it created great curiosity. The venerable warden observes that things are moving mighty fast nowadays and that he expects that very soon the trip from Jerusalem to Jéricho will be by taxi entirely. The innkeeper will also have to revamp his place, converting it into a garage with a filling station.

British Columbia stands to benefit more from the tourist traffic than Alberta, yet the government of that province is responsible for holding up the work of finishing the connecting link of the highway between the two provinces in the Crows' Nest Pass. The tourist traffic has commenced and it is a great pity that tourists, after travelling for days over beautiful roads either east or west of the interprovincial divide, should be up against about three miles of the worst piece of travel grade in the universe. The B.C. government in their appropriation for roads for the year 1928 has made no provision for this work, in spite of agitation that has been going on for years. The Alberta government on the other hand is prepared to do their end, provided B.C. will cooperate.

MEETING OF BLAIRMORE SCHOOL BOARD

The regular monthly meeting of the Blairmore Board of School Trustees took place in the office of the secretary-treasurer on Friday night last. Mr. C. J. Tompkins was absent.

The minutes of previous regular and special meetings were adopted as read and several small amounts were passed for payment.

Word was received from Edmonton, stating that the status of the district had been changed from that of a village to a town district, official notice of which would appear in the next issue of the Alberta Gazette.

One application was received for a position on the teaching staff, but as it is not likely any rearrangement of staff will affect till the summer holidays, the application was placed on file to be considered later.

PRICE—CLARKE

A wedding of considerable interest took place at the manse, Hillcrest, on Saturday evening, April the 28th, the contracting parties being Mr. James Price and Mrs. Annie Clarke. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Roy C. Taylor. The bride was attended by Mrs. Arthur Amphlett, while Mr. John W. Makin acted as best man. The newly married couple left on the night train to spend their honeymoon in Calgary. In addition to the usual tin-can brigade, the following were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. Amphlett, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. E. Roberts (Pincher Creek); Mr. and Mrs. D. Howcroft, Lady Price, Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, Mrs. Tom Price, Misses Ethel and Edith Price, Master and Mrs. John Ironmonger, Mr. and Mrs. J. Maddison, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Royle (Blairmore), Sidney Price, Charlie Makin, Misses Flo and Jane Makin. After the ceremony a splendid repast was partaken of. The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing, the singing and dancing of Lady Price being a revelation to all present, considering her age, eighty-two years. The best wishes of all go with the newly-wedded couple.

If a man once uses porous plaster, he is likely to become attached to them.

Here and There

(68) Victoria.—The area of forest land in British Columbia dedicated to future forest production is 5,280,000 acres according to a Government report.

Yesterplay was observed as cleanup day at Pincher Creek. What about a similar effort on the part of Blairmore?

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Freeman, of Cowley, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter on Sunday, April 22nd.

In the by-election at Medicine Hat on Tuesday, Hector Lang, Liberal, emerged winner with a majority of 495.

Mrs. M. Joyce and children left last week end for Corbin, where they will reside in future, and be joined shortly by Mr. Joyce.

The stork visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houghton on Saturday morning last, leaving them a ten-pound son.

It takes the average woman about twice as long to make up her complexion as it does to make up her mind.

The store immediately east of The Enterprise building is being equipped as a bakery, to be occupied by Mr. N. Colombo.

Richard Dobbie, another of the Pincher Creek oldtimers, passed away last week at the age of seventy-two. He came to Pincher Creek forty years ago.

On Sunday last we received a letter from an old friend of ours in Vancouver, enclosing a money order with the notation "Two dollars for renewal of your Bladder."

The Kimberley Press remarks: "D. B. of Pincher Creek, has about completed a splendid tourist camp just east of Moyle townsite. This will be opened to the public on May 1st."

While in the east, we sent to an elderly lady in Blairmore a picture of a Scotchman in kilts demonstrating somersaults. We regret that the lady in question has been ill ever since.

Jack Fisher left here last week end for Winnipeg, where he will be joined by Allan Hamilton to enter upon a prospecting expedition along the line of the new railway to Hudson's Bay.

The Wilson premises, next east of J. A. Kerr's store, is being renovated and we understand will be occupied in the near future by C. J. Tompkins, insurance agent, and S. G. Bannon, solicitor.

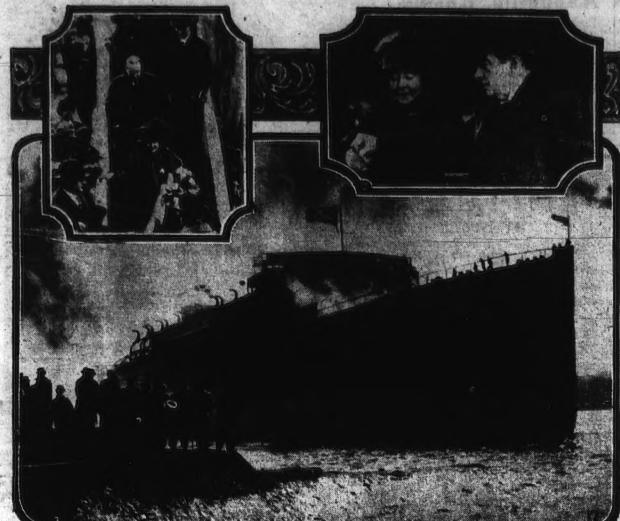

A couple of weeks ago we attended a Salvation Army meeting at Truro, Nova Scotia, and were amused at a coon quartette occupying the platform and singing, "Wash me and I shall be whiter than snow."

Floyd Bennett, a distinguished aviator, died in a Quebec hospital from pneumonia contracted while attempting to reach the Bremen fliers on Greenly Island. Bennett was the companion of Byrd in his flight over the north pole and was to have accompanied him next fall on his Antarctic trip.

Before leaving for Trail, Jollett Houreaga and David Kemp were tendered a farewell by their manager, Mr. W. W. Scott, and team mates of the junior hockey club. A supper was served at the Tea Kettle Inn. Charlie Joyce, also a member of the team last season, and who was leaving for Corbin, was also a guest.

Miss Arlendien's engagement with the Blairmore school district terminated on Monday and she left for Calgary by Tuesday's local. She is to be married "shortly" to Constable Harry Hammond, of the Blairmore detachment of the Alberta Provincial Police and we understand they will make their home in Edmonton, to which point Mr. Hammond will be transferred with a promotion.

Premier Baldwin recalled his recent visit to Canada and spoke of the country's wonderful possibilities.

"I am quite confident," he said, "that whatever vision and imagination can do for the Empire at large will be done by the Canadian Pacific Railway."

After cutting the cord was which a bottle of champagne was suspended. Mrs. Baldwin, before touching the button, which will be the means of the vessel being released, said: "Name you 'Duchess of Bedford'." "May God protect and prosper her," said Mr. Baldwin, and blesss all those that go forth with you into the known and unknown."

Mr. Baldwin turned to a number of spectators cheering from the large gathering of spectators, the massive structure began to move through stocks, and gathering impetus as the went, took the water gracefully.

Don't forget the big film attraction at the Orpheum Theatre on tomorrow and Saturday nights: Harold Lloyd in "Speedy." And Friday and Saturday of next week: "The Flight Commander," Britain's biggest thrill melodrama.

Charles Alexander, who has been assistant inspector of taxation for a number of years, has been appointed Inspector, to succeed Thoburn Allen, who resigned some time ago. D. C. Craig has been advanced to the position of assistant inspector.

The stork has recently visited the homes of Thomas Kemp and Joe Misson.

Our next serial story will be run backwards, so that our readers may know the outcome before the start.

Trout and Salmon Await Anglers' Flies

With winter snows dispersing rapidly and ice dissolving into lakes and streams; with the rising of sap and budding of trees, fishing anglers awaken picturing streams where one would with fish, days.

"When even the deep blue heavens look glad,

And the birds sing from the blossoming ground."

The waters of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario have at their devoted followers according to the popular saying, "The angler is to the sportsman what the trout is to the fisherman." These anglers are always eager to try new fishing grounds, and they will have new waters this year, according to the "Outdoor Life" writing in "Outdoor Life and Recreation." The latest bid for the favor of the sportsman is the opening of a trout and salmon river, the Beaufort, to any sportsman who can pay a sum for a day's fishing. Therefore, it is to be expected that many anglers will be interested in the Beaufort, to fish the Beaufort unless he rents fishing water for a term of several years. Now the province of Quebec is famous for its ordinary circumstances to put up money enough for the realization of amateur dreams of a week's fishing for salmon or trout.

For salmon in New Brunswick, a trout and salmon river, September 30, the Madawaska River and its tributaries, whose names many anglers are already familiar with. In this section special bungalow camps are to be found. The season starts May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

The North American continent is more richly endowed with fish and game. The innumerable rivers, streams, lakes and great stretches of land offer an almost bewildering selection to the man who is hunting, fishing or canoeing trips. The trout season in Quebec province starts May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

Ontario's most celebrated trout country is the north Lake Superior and the Madawaska River, whose names many anglers are already familiar with. In this section special bungalow camps are to be found. The season starts May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

Mr. Peel has returned from Oko-

Mrs. Arthur Freeman has returned from Pincher Creek with a new infant daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh and Verdun motored to Calgary on Sunday, where Verdun will play in the musical contest.

Seeding is in full swing here now, about one-third being done. With continued favorable weather, it is expected that by the end of next week the finish of seeding will be in sight.
The farmers are in the fields early and late and are taking every advantage of the sunny days.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute took place at the home of Mrs. H. C. Morrison on Thursday evening. The principal item of interest was a motion to have a strip of land ploughed around the cemetery, which will be planted in trees next year. A motion was also made to have the trees which were planted last year by the Institute kept well cultivated every two weeks up to the end of July or thereabout.

A social evening was given recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Har-
Nort Fork Ladies' Club and in aid
Nort Fork Ladies' Club and in aid of the cemetery fund. The time was enjoyably passed at cards, dancing and short programme. Special entertainers for the evening were: Percy Burles, song; C. Bare, recitation;
George Mowat, recitation; Mrs.
Fraser, song; May Paulson, recitation; Rosella Shamborn, recitation; Arthur Tustian, violin solo; Eileen and Bessie Cooper, character sketch;
George Ritson, recitation; and Mrs.
Jack Green a song. The prizes at cards were as follows: ladies' first,
Miss Emily Robinson; consolation,
Mr. Paulson. Gents' first, Mr.
Harold Cleland; consolation, Mrs. Gus

ial prize, was won by Mr. Fraser.
A dainty and delicious supper was served. As a result of this event, the cemetery funds were benefited to the extent of $27.00.

A grand concert was staged here in the L.O.O.P. hall on Friday night, under the auspices of the Veterans' Association. Most of the talent was supplied by Bellevue and Blairmore.
The audience was held when the first artist appeared and until the end of an unusually pleasing programme.
Those who took part were Mr. Arthur Hadwell, Bellevue, who gave several song selections in his fine tenor voice; Mrs. Gordon Steeves, Blairmore, sang in pleasing style several songs, which were attentively listened to. The two above artists were first prize winners at the Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival this year.
Little Miss Price, of Bellevue, an unusually talented child of tender years, recited four numbers in succession,
which fairly brought the house down.
Mr. Curry, of Bellevue, who was accompanied at the piano by his mother, gave two numbers on the musical guitar, which were eagerly listened to.
Next was a duet by Mr. Hadwell and Mrs. Steeves, which was one of the finest numbers on the programme.
Mr. Goodwin, of Bellevue, played two solos on the cornet, making a pleasing contrast in the evening's entertainment. Miss Chardon, of Blair-more, who is also a winner of several medals, acted as accompanist on the piano for the evening. One of the most striking characters on the stage was Miss Edith Cole, of Bellevue, who is a medalist for contests in elocution.
She charmed the audience with her talent in this line, when she gave in fine oratorical style two very pleasing numbers. George Mowat, of Nort Fork, recited old favorite, "Laska Down by the Rio Grande." Mr.
William Brown, was the very capable chairman. At the close of the evening's programme, he thanked all who helped in any way to make the entertainment the huge success it was. "God Save The King" brought the programme to a close. The sum of $43.00 was realized, which goes to the benefit fund of the Order of British Empire Service League.

An exchange remarks: "Mr. Ringling, the circus magnate, shows you this year a sea elephant weighing four tons, that eats five per cent of its weight, or 400 pounds of herrings at one meal. Any one of a dozen fishes in a generation would fill all the oceans and seas of the world, solid with fish if they and their descendants all survive. The elephant, on the other hand, lives a hundred years and only has two or three children at most."

The Newfoundland government collected a tourist tax of two dollars on all transportation tickets purchased outside the British Empire.

mainly because the latter are not so well known and are not owned, indeed, by those who know it

The Great Lakes are practically an down the long aisle the passengers find room spacious and comfortable which greatly relieves the already huge appetite.

After dinner a promenade of the broad white decks, as motionless as the city streets, is a great treat, a difference! The fresh clean breeze stiffens, the sun strikes the horizon and sinks in blazing splendor, the sky is filled with clouds of our well-being. Host upon host of graceful white-sailed wings appear over the stern, crying the piping call as they pass, until they seem to appear motionless, a floating host of white feather; but a chance glancing of the clouds reveals bright spots of color, the birds are lost in the soft unfolding darkness. Stars come out, and a wilde moon floods the lake with an ethereal beauty. All is quiet—broken only by the friendly intimate quiet—broken here and there by a merry laugh, a passing footstep, the throb of the great engine, which can be heard wireless up above. A little later we pass the protruding Bruce peninsula, then the Manitoulin Island, the distance can be seen the blinking light of the mariners' guides, the lighthouses at Tahk's Head, Long Point, Pelee Island, Point and

The steamships, the "Keweenaw", are in constant service, running from May 1st to September 25th. The journey occupies the better part of three days, with every way bringing further charm and amazement at the unfolding beauty of the trip.

Empire Builders

Empire Shopping Week, which was observed throughout Canada last month, appears to have made an especially strong appeal to the people of Western Canada. This may be surprising to many people in the Eastern provinces who are still laboring under the delusion that British and Empire sentiment is not overly strong in the West, and that it has been weakened by the influx of settlers of other than British origin. But it is not surprising to the average Westerner; on the contrary, to him it is but the natural outcome of the thought and outlook of the West.

It is not in the East, but in the West, that the strongest approval is given to the British Preference feature in the Canadian tariff, and it is in the West, rather than the East, that public opinion favors further, albeit gradual, extension of that Preference with a view to a lowering of duties and still greater encouragement of British trade in this Dominion. In fact, there is a very strong sentiment in the West which would welcome the development of Preference to the point where all customs duties on British-made and British-produced goods were wiped out entirely.

Empire Shopping Week had for its object the focussing of people's attention upon certain economic factors in the development of Canada as a component part of the British Commonwealth of Nations and of the Empire as a whole. Undoubtedly, sentiment provides a mighty urge to all Canadians to give a voluntary preference to Empire goods when making purchases, but, as was the case with prohibition of the liquor traffic, sentiment is not in itself sufficient. It is the economic factor which, in these modern days, provides the most powerful argument. And Western Canada is profoundly interested in the economic factor.

World trade today is, as it has always been and always will be, a system of barter—the exchange by one country of those products and articles of which it produces a surplus to another country which requires them, and to accept payment therefore in other goods of which such country produces a surplus but which the first mentioned country requires to import. Money is merely a convenient means of effecting such exchange. In other words, trade between nations operates on exactly the same principles as trade between individuals.

Western Canada, and Canada as a whole, has a surplus of products to sell. If those countries which require the things Canada has to sell are in a position to buy and pay for them we must, in turn, buy from those countries the things they have to sell and which we cannot or do not produce ourselves and must import.

Last year Canada sold to the rest of the British Empire $200,000,000 more products than we purchased from them. On the other hand, Canada bought over $200,000,000 more from the United States than we sold across the line. Canada was enabled to pay the United States for the excess of goods imported because of its excess of sales to other parts of the Empire. While Canada did not lose by this procedure, the Empire did not gain; in fact, it lost a net loss.

Now as our major exports must cross the seas to Great Britain, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, it will be to Canada's advantage, in a purely business way, to buy as largely as possible in those countries and thus provide return cargoes for the ships which carry Canada's products into the markets of the far-flung British Empire. The larger these return cargoes, the more profitably can the vessels be operated, the greater the number of ships that will be put on these ocean lanes of transportation, the keener the competition for the business, and, as an inevitable economic result, the lower the freight charges levied on both out-going and in-coming shipments.

The more Canada buys from its sister nations in the British Commonwealth, the more they can buy from us. The one re-acts on the other, and trade both ways can thus be built up and grow like the proverbial snowball. It has long been declared that "Trade follows the flag," but it is also true that the flag has followed trade, and to the traders of the past we largely owe the Empire of today.

It is equally true that the development of inter-Empire trade has a direct and pronounced effect on immigration, and inasmuch as Canada is particularly anxious to secure a larger proportion of British settlers, the more we trade with Britain the more widely will Canada and Canadian products and Canadian resources and possibilities become known among the British people.

The slogan of Empire Shopping Week is indubitably true—"Empire Buyers are Empire Builders." Let Canada build by buying.

Radio Phone Service Extended

Three Western Cities Have Been Added To List.

A considerable extension in Canada of the list of towns and cities from which wireless telephone in Europe may be had, has been announced by Alex. Johnston, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, following the receipt of a statement from the office of the Secretary of State for the Dominions, London.

Up until April 11, the service was available to certain towns in Belgium, Germany, Holland and Sweden, but since that date it has been extended to Paris and to certain towns in

I have never been ill but I have always obtained good results. It enriched my blood, relieved me of pain and helped to build me up in health, like a new person! ### Beauty Inventions Exhibited in London

One Machine Types, Adds, and Multiplies At Once Time

Unusually efficient inventions were to be seen at the Business Efficiency Exhibition at Holland Park Hall, London, Eng., recently. The devices shown included: An electric machine that opens envelopes at the rate of 30,000 an hour. A machine that types, adds, and multiplies at the same time. A machine that seals, franka, counts, postmarks and prints a slogan on envelopes at the rate of 300 per minute. Portable typewriter in color to match the home or personal color scheme. A lock which records on a tape at the time the door is opened, by whom, and whether from the outside or inside of the room.

NEGLECTED ANAEMIA

Often Leads To The Most Serious Consequences

In no disorder is delay or neglect more dangerous than in anaemia. Usually the first noticeable signs are pale lips and cheeks, dark rimes under the nose, a failing of energy, and veins below the forehead, backache, palpitation and breathlessness. The only way that anaemia can be overcome is to enrich the blood, and this can be done by adding to the blood enriching and blood-making properties that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won such great success in the treatment of this often most stubborn disease.

'Thousands of young girls who were in an anaemic condition owe their present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. One of them, Katie McEachern, Port Hood, N.S., says: "I praise the day I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not had a fever for months. I had a very pale face, had severe headaches, dizzy spells, and occasional fainting spells. The least exertion would leave me tired and breathless. These pills are the best I have ever taken. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I continued their use until I had taken size boxes, by which time I was again enjoying good health. I am now well and strong, and will lead other sufferers to give this medicine a trial."

If you are at all run-down, weak, you will begin to feel the effects of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you will soon be well and strong. These pills are the best I have ever taken. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Dry Ice" New Idea

Substitute Has Been Used Successfully In States

By the use of "dry ice," or solid carbon dioxide, the price of ice cream will be cut considerably with the next few years, says Fred Rasmussen, of Harrisburg, executive of the International Ice Cream Manufacturers' Association, during the annual convention of the body.

Only five pounds of the "dry ice" will supply the needs of an ice cream delivery truck for nearly a day, he declared, and use of the substitute will spread rapidly when it is made in quantity. It is now being used in transporting ice cream by truck from Vancouver by boat through the fjords of the Northwest Coast, I think the first time ever.

Forest Effect On Temperatures

Forests have an equalizing effect on extremes of temperature. Records for Canada show that in forested districts maximum temperatures are lower and minimum temperatures higher than in adjoining deforested tracts.

Pics Is Made For Establishment Of Government Park In Bella Coola Valley, B.C.

If you like to get out in the wild country and hunt wild animals, such as grizzlies, with the camera, by all means go to the Bella Coola Valley, B.C. I have spent the last four summers there, and I am advocating the establishment there of a "Dominion Park" to be known as Mackenzie Park, in honor of the first white man who crossed Canada and who reached the sea at that point—this to be connected up by means of a highway to be known as Mackenzie Highway, passing part of MacKenzie's route so that people can go from New York to California and from Bella Coola over the Mackenzie Highway, visiting Mackenzie Park and returning by way of the Rocky Mountains Park, and so on. This would bring money into British Columbia and Canada. If the Dominion will not carry out this plan I hope to get some wealthy men interested, as the region is one of wonderful beauty. Within a distance of 70 miles, it is easily traversed in one day by motor boat or auto; the can visit both the so-called rainy coast and the desert interior. One can go from sea level to 12,000 feet, can have boating on both salt, fresh, swift, and still waters, paddling, poling, motor boating, sailing, etc. There is excellent trout fishing and good animal photography, grizzly bears being very numerous. Thousands of waterfowl, from one of them over 800 feet high; 18 glaciars may be seen from one place, and there are many others. So that people can go from Vancouver by boat through the fjords of the Northwest Coast, I think the first time ever.

PROBLEM OF IMMIGRATION IS BEFORE INQUIRY

Ottawa.—Rev. Canon Burd, of Prince Albert, quoting immigration statistics before the Commons committee on immigration, expressed his "very deep alarm" over the preponderance of Europeans entering Canada. Last year, he said, the increase registered had been 1,088 British, 3,062 from the United States, and 4,636 Europeans. In March 1,159 British people came to the Dominion and 9,166 to British Columbia.

"This is to show that the present situation is detrimental to those of us living in the West," said the canon.

The census of Saskatchewan showed that in 1916 the proportion of British residents in the province was 54.5; in 1921, 52.8; and in 1926, 50.7.

"Would you have the development of the West arrested until we can get British immigrants, who seem reluctant to come?" asked C. H. Cahan (Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George).

A letter was read from a rural dean of the Peace River, who stated that every train into that country was bringing in foreign-born, but no British. The foreigners, he said, would never become Canadians.

"It is a libel on my district to say that foreign-born are not becoming good Canadians," said George McPhee (Liberal, Yorkton).

"I do not say that it is true of every district, but where foreigners are in blocks it is correct," replied the canon.

The British Government had voted £18,000,000 to spend in emigration. They had been able to spend only three and a half million. It was made clear to the British Government that Canada wanted settlers; it would go deep in its pocket for overseas settlement.

C. McIntosh was "not afraid of the future of Saskatchewan," so far as immigration was concerned.

The Canon made it clear that he did not represent the Anglican Synod, but the diocese of Saskatchewan. He represented the whole church, so far as he spoke from the general diocese of Saskatchewan.

This was correct, agreed the Canon, but he would quote from the journals of the general diocese which were the opinion of the whole of the Church of England.

He said that there was no unfriendliness toward the Department of Immigration. He quoted from a memorandum passed by the Saskatchewan syndicate pointing to the employment by the department of 21 Roman Catholic priests and only a few clergymen of other denominations. This was described as "a glaring unfairness."

Floyd Bennett Dies In Quebec After Double Pneumonia

Quebec.—Floyd Bennett, one of the world's best known aviators, died in hospital here, following a severe attack of double pneumonia.

Bennett, who, in conjunction with Barnie Balchen, was one of the first to try to bring airplane aid to the stranded Germans and Irish trans-Atlantic fliers at Greenly Island, contracted his illness as a direct result of his attempt to help his stranded fellow aviators. Mrs. Bennett, the widow, was in a disabled condition at the out-of-the-way Greenly Island.

Bennett had been suffering from a heavy cold prior to his take-off from Detroit and had undertaken the flight against advice of physicians.

Bennett's wife, Commander Byrd, both of whom rushed here from New York when informed as to Bennett's serious condition, were at his bedside when he died. Mrs. Bennett herself was ill when she arrived here and was occupying a cot in the hospital, suffering from tonsillitis.

Pleased With Senate Prospects

Janeey Canuck Sees Results Of Year Campaign

Edmonton.—After a year's campaign from Ottawa, that the Dominion Parliament would take steps to amend provisions of the British North America Act so that it would be legal for women to receive appointments to the Senate, brings to a climax a 12-year campaign to achieve this objective initiated and waged with untiring vigor by Mrs. Emily Murphy, first woman to be appointed police magistrate in Canada, and who, under the pen name of Janeey Canuck, has contributed much literature to the cause of woman's advancement in the social and political life of the country.

Asked regarding the statement on the subject made in Parliament, by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, Mrs. Murphy expressed her heartfelt appreciation of the Government's action, and said she was in full agreement with the people of Canada, for the most part were in perfect harmony, irrespective of "class, creed, party or sex."

Germans Planning New Trip Across Atlantic

Completing Plans For Another Flight To North America

Dessau, Germany.—Negotiations for another flight to North America in a Junkers plane by way of Baldonnel, Ireland, have almost been completed.

The Junkers officials, however, have decided to divulge the details, but the latest Associated Press learns that the project is being engineered by Dr. Lili Dillen, Viennese actress who last year flew from the Azores in the D-250 in an effort to make the Westward passage.

The Europa, sister plane of the Bremen, which last year was compelled to land after a valiant effort to start for the U.S., will be used, and will be piloted by Johann Ristick, who was aboard the Europa on her unsuccessful attempt.

It is understood that Frau Dillen Dillen owns the Europa and that she will be a passenger on the new attempt.

Proceeds Go To Nurse

New York.—The proceeds of a matinee under the auspices of Sir Wilfred Grenfell in a play house here, will go to Miss Great Ferris, of Saint John, N.B., who carried supplies to the Bremen fliers on Greenly Island, and afterwards through the Saint John Telegraph-Journal and the Canadian Press, gave the first detailed first-hand account of their flight to the world. Miss Ferris is a nurse at the Fortuna Mission in Labrador.

Increase In Immigration

More Britons Arrive And Canadians Returning From U.S.

Ottawa.—In the fiscal year ended March 31, 1923, immigration to Canada amounted to 156,837, an increase of 5 per cent. over the previous year, when it totalled 143,991. These figures were made public by the department of immigration and colonization.

During the last 12 months, as compared with the preceding year, there has been an increase in British immigration of 1,088. Immigration from the United States has increased by 3,882, and from other countries the increase has been 2,335.

A significant feature of the statistics is the increase in immigration from the United States, which was greater than the increase from all other sources combined.

During March the total immigration to Canada was 14,635, of which 3,150 were British, 2,833 from the United States, and 9,132 from other countries.

During March 2,670 Canadians who had gone to the United States to reside returned to Canada, declaring their intention of remaining permanently in this country. The number of such returning Canadians in the fiscal year was 39,587.

BRITAIN NAMES SIR WM. CLARK OTTAWA ENVOY

Sir William Clark was the eldest son of the late W. J. Clark, Sheriff of House, Cambridge, and is in his 50th year.

Sir William was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. He has had an exceptional training in the public service. He was a clerk in the Board of Trade Department of the government in 1890; secretary to the special mission to Shanghai to negotiate a commercial treaty with China in 1901; acting second secretary in the diplomatic service in 1902; secretary to the Royal Commission on the House supply of food, etc., in time of war, 1903-5.

Sir William was private secretary at the Board of Trade to Lloyd George in 1906, and to Winston Churchill in 1908; secretary to Lloyd George as chancellor of the exchequer, 1908-10; member for commerce and industry of the council of the Viceroy of India, 1910-16, and comptroller-general of the commercial intelligence department of the Board of Trade, 1916-17.

As soon as the necessary arrangements are completed, Sir William will proceed to Ottawa.

Norwegians Aid Canada's Development

1. A group of Norwegians photographed after having spent a few years in Canada.

2. Young girl dressed in the costume typical of her native country.

By introducing into Canada such winter sport talents as the Norwegian origin, the average age and average index of immigrants from Norway is 24.5 years, the majority travelling by Canadian Pacific ships to Quebec and Montreal in the summer and St. John, N.B., in the winter. These vessels are splendidly equipped for this purpose and carry as many as 900 immigrant passengers at a time, considerably exceeding the capacity of other lines.

The settlers travel from Oslo and Christiania by the weekly service maintained by the Eileman Wilson Steamship Line to Hull, across England by the London and North Eastern Railway, and embark at Liverpool. Special C.P.R. trains run from Quebec through to Winnipeg and the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern lines, connecting with the Canadian Pacific and the immigration as applied to Canada relates almost exclusively to land settlement and colonization. The entrance of men who followed other pursuits will depend upon the opportunities for employment existing in Canada and when these opportunities are known to exist they will be secured without difficulty and without effort.

In fact, the history of the U.S. has indicated that where jobs are available applicants are usually found for them in great numbers.

"If I am correct in assuming that the question is one of land settlement and colonization, our efforts must be made to greatly increase the obtaining of settlers or those who can in time become settlers. We have a great deal of unoccupied land in Canada."

Automobile Racer Killed

Car Overturns When Lockhart Was Speeding New Record

Daytona Beach, Fla.—Frank Lockhart, noted automobile racer, was killed "instantly" yesterday when he lost control of his machine while racing on the beach at more than 200 miles an hour.

On his final run, Lockhart had been clocked at 147 miles an hour. The return trip was made at a speed of 193 miles. Starting again on the beach again the machine sped and timed at 203.45 miles.

In the final trip, it was apparent that he was making more than 200 miles an hour when the racer went out of control about 500 yards south of the beginning of the mile stretch directly in front of the grandstand.

Lockhart's machine was demolished. The car in which the famous speed king met his death was the one in which he plunged into the ocean here on February 22 last, while making an attempt to set a world's record during the annual speed trials here.

Must Exercise More Care

Charge Dry Officers At Border Cities

Carries With Gun

Ottawa.—Canada will communicate immediately with her minister in Washington, Hon. Vincent Massey, in respect to the endangering of lives of Canadian citizens from bullets believed to have been fired by American preventive officers operating under the Volstead Act, stated Premier King in the House.

Mr. Massey will ask that more care be exercised by these U.S. officials.

According to S. F. Robinson, Conservative, Essex West, several times within the last month Canadians have been nearly killed by bullets from American preventive officers at the border cities of Windsor, Walkerville, and Sandwich.

BEATTY STRESSES CANADA'S NEED OF POPULATION

Ottawa.—More executive efficiency and greater administrative latitude under experienced executives commanding high salaries were among the suggestions offered by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific railway.

Mr. Beatty indicated his belief that the present efforts being made by the government and the railways were bringing inadequate results. He approved of the training in Great Britain as a method of eliminating "idle hands" from immigrants.

Millions of Canada's 9,000,000 people were of British and French origin, he said.

"This would indicate that we have not yet reached the point at which the admission of continents, even in considerable numbers, should cause apprehension," said Mr. Beatty.

"We are all, I think," said Mr. Beatty, "impressed with the fact that Canada has made substantial progress in the last few years but we know progress can be expedited and even greater results obtained by the admission of more people to this country. I share the views of the president of the National Railways and I agree with others that our ambition should be to admit, first from Great Britain and afterward from the United States and selected continental countries, men who are physically fit, and able, and willing to follow agricultural pursuits."

"The figures for the past three years are approximately correct that 80,000 per year was the net increase in our population, other than from natural increase, and the extent of the country and its resources are considered, it cannot, I think, be said we are admitting an adequate number of new settlers. I feel, too, that with present conditions of things the fundamental principles underlying the legislation of the government and the immigration as applied to Canada relate almost exclusively to land settlement and colonization. The entrance of men who followed other pursuits will depend upon the opportunities for employment existing in Canada and when these opportunities are known to exist they will be secured without difficulty and without effort.

In fact, the history of the U.S. has indicated that where jobs are available applicants are usually found for them in great numbers.

"If I am correct in assuming that the question is one of land settlement and colonization, our efforts must be made to greatly increase the obtaining of settlers or those who can in time become settlers. We have a great deal of unoccupied land in Canada."

WOULD REDUCE THE NUMBER OF WHEAT VARIETIES

Regina.—Realizing the necessity of maintaining uniformity in the standard of pool wheat, the directors of the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool have been actively investigating ways and means of encouraging the production of fewer and better varieties to the benefit of the industry and have actively associated themselves with the promotion of a zoning system.

"One of the factors making for lack of uniformity," said a Wheat Pool official, "is the great increase in wheat varieties since the introduction of Maize in 1903. It is true that great advances have been made in the production of wheat by cross breeding and selection by different agencies such as experimental farms and prominent seed growers, but with no restriction on the number of varieties licensed the result has been that a large number of varieties have been produced, not all of which have proved superior to the existing varieties.

"In many cases the new wheat varieties are higher yielding or have greater rust resistance but are lower in milling or baking qualities than the previous standard varieties. The result of mixing several varieties or more or less different characteristics has been a steady trend away from uniformity in the whole crop. The fewer the varieties the greater the uniformity.

"With recent introduction of the Manitoba wheat variety, which has exceptionally low milling and baking quality and is in no way superior to other varieties that might be used for seed.

"Dominion and provincial government institutions have tested and experimented with cereal varieties for many years, but the results of these experiments have sometimes been conflicting owing to the location of the experimental stations in different portions of the country where different climatic and soil conditions prevail. The lack of co-operation of experimental work between all the stations concerned has tended to confuse farmers as to what are really the most desirable varieties from both the production and marketing standpoint.

Commissioner Of Lands Dead

John W. Greenway Was Son Of Former Premier Of Manitoba

Ottawa.—John W. Greenway, aged 67 years, commissioner of lands, Department of Interior, and son of the late Hon. Thomas Greenway, former premier of Manitoba, died here.

He had been ill in health since the death of his wife, March 4 last.

Under Mr. Greenway's supervision some thousands of settlers took up land in the West and he was largely responsible for the success of the various plans used in providing homesteads for these settlers.

Mr. Greenway was born at Berville, Ont., at the time his father was federal member for Huron.

The family moved to Manitoba in 1878 and after his father became president of that province most of the management of their farm at Crystal City fell on the shoulders of the son. In 1898 John Greenway was appointed inspector of School Lands in Manitoba and became commissioner of lands under the Dominion Government in 1904.

Irish Embassy To U.S. Not Worth the Money Says De Valera

Dublin.—Abolition of the post of Free State representative at Washington was urged in the Dail Eireann budget debate by Eamonn de Valera, the republican leader, who said that it was not worth the money it cost.

It was based on false pretences, he said, and it would be better if the Seanad ceased to be a minister who merely was part of the British embassy. It did not deserve Americans, De Valera said.

Patrick MacGilligan, Minister for Industry and Commerce, replying for the government, denied that the Irish minister at Washington was connected with the British embassy and said that the U.S. had recognized the position in sending its own minister to Dublin.
